

Dear Colleagues and participants of the Fifth International Scientific and Practical Seminar "Document Restoration: Conservatism and Innovation»!

Due to the World Health Organization declaration of global health emergency in connection with the outbreak of coronavirus infection and following the restrictive measures taken by the Government of Moscow and other cities of Russia to ensure public safety, the 2020 Workshop on Document Restoration in Moscow at the Russian State Library is cancelled. The programme of the key events of the Seminar is shifted to April 2021.

The decision to cancel the Seminar was made by the Organizing Committee in order to protect the health of speakers and participants in the adverse epidemiological situation.

We hope to see all the participants next year, in April. From our side, we will take all measures to ensure that the 2021 Workshop Programme does not disappoint you.

All papers submitted for participation and publication in the 2020 Seminar will be included in the new Programme. The proceedings of Workshop materials will also be published in April 2021.

Please follow the news on our official website www.rsl.ru

We apologize for the inconvenience and look forward to seeing you in April 2021.

Vadim Duda
Director General
Russian State Library